CHEST DRIVE STARTS WEDNESDAY AFTER YEAR OF CAREFUL PLANS

After nearly a year of careful planning the 1953 Campbell Area Community Chest Campaign is under way with Wednesday, Sept. 16 set as the night when hundreds of volunteer collectors will ring the doorbells of homes throughout the Campbell High School District.

The Chest Drive will reach the residents of Quito Park, Workman Tract, Stevens Creek Road, San Tomas, Cambrian, Beverly, Burbank, Cambrian Park, San Jose-Los Gatos Road, the Moreland School Area and the city of Campbell.

Under the leadership of Edward F. Tablak of Aquino Park, a band of people are already visiting homes to explain the great needs of our young people and less fortunate families throughout this district. Tablak has emphasized especially the importance of reminding all those who work outside of the Campbell Area to designate all or at least a part of the Chest contributions at work to the Campbell Chest Fund.

During the winter month, the Chest Board of Directors listened to speakers from all the receiving agencies of the Campbell area, speak of the great problems that confront youth and social service organizations in a district as wide spread as Campbell.

Leonard McConnell, Executive Secretary of the Santa Clara County Family Service Association gave graphic statistics to the group which indicated that at the present time even though the Association was giving Campbell triple the service paid for, still the needs are not being met.

Al Smith, representing the Boy Scouts, described the vast task of financing the records, supplies, bulletins, and summer camp work. Mrs. Alice Ledum of San Jose, explained the almost forgotten, but still vitally needed assistance to the U. S. O. program.

The Board also heard Mrs. Lentz, Campfire Girl Representative for Campbell describe the needs of the largest girls' program in this area. The three age groups of Girl Scouts were sketched for the Board by Mrs. Helen Helm, Executive Director of Santa Clara County.

Mrs. Marion Welch, representing the Visiting Nurses Association scored the importance of nurses in this work. In 1952 the Campbell area received 1,600 calls from the visiting nurses.

The 1953 Campbell Community Chest Headquarters is located at 201 Giles Way. The telephone is FR 8-2869. Campaign Secretary is Mrs. Gertrude Jones.

Black said Tuesday he had secured preliminary estimates for a pre-fabricated garage 20 feet by 20 feet for approximately $550.

City Engineer Mark E. Thomas said he had received a communication from State Division of Highways concerning installation of a traffic signal at the intersection of Hamilton and San Jose-Los Gatos road to cost approximately $8,400. Barrington is a former NBC news Editor, Voice of America Radio Writer, and Marine Corps Electronics Officer.

CAMPBELL SOLDIER SEES MEN LIBERATED AT FREEDOM CAMP

One of the first American soldiers to come in contact with men being repatriated in Freedom Village was Lieutenant J. F. Kwasigroch of Campbell, according to word just received from him in Korea by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kwasigroch of 156 Carolyn Avenue.

By virtue of his position as aide de camp to Brigadier General Ralph Osborne in charge of operations "Big Switch" Lt. Kwasigroch was in Freedom village every day while men imprisoned behind the iron curtain since 1950 were being liberated.

"It was thrilling to see these men come over the line after months of agony in enemy prison camps, realizing that they were again among their own people and in the arms of democracy and all that it stands for," he wrote.

Stationed at Headquarters Mun-san-Ni, Korea in the Provost Command base, Lt. Kwasigroch said that his duties include detailing meeting of all visiting generals at the base. Two of such visitors recently were General Maxwell Taylor, far-Eastern command, and Senator William Knowland.

In Korea since March, Lt. Kwasigroch was in battle on the hill just before the signing of the armistice. His wife, Joy, resides at Oklahoma City. He was graduated from the University of Santa Clara and Bellarmine high school. He is a member of Bishop O'Dowd Council, Knights of Columbus.

Scott said today that starting September 13 the local fire department will conduct fire drills twice a month. Drills will be held in accordance with directions from State Board of Fire Underwriters, Scott said and will be conducted in two sessions.

The first half of the month, the first group of registered volunteers will drill, and the remainder will practice on the second date.

Scott said the drills will simulate actual fires, as they may occur, if permission is obtained from affected property owners.

New volunteers to the local fire department, according to the chief, are now busy cleaning hoses and getting apparatus in top notch condition.

Chamber of Commerce secretary, William B. Enoch, in making the announcement said representatives from the three organizations will meet to appoint committees, discuss approximate costs, methods of handling decorations and ways to finance the city-wide project.

Another key purpose of the meeting, according to the Chamber secretary, is to appoint a committee to appear before Campbell City Council to see what arrangements can be worked out with that body.

Robert Seligson, proprietor of Campbell Variety Store on Campbell Ave., Chairman of Christmas decorations committee for Campbell Merchants Association, said that the Association has offered to donate $500 toward the street decoration project.

"If the project is successful, it will be the first time in the history of the community, that the city as a whole has been decorated during Christmas time," Enoch said.

He was taken to San Jose Hospital where he underwent an operation Sunday and Monday of this week. On a visit to the Press office this week, Klassen said he was much improved, and will return to his teaching duties next week at the local high school.

Most of the Campbell residents and property owners in the Council audience Tuesday night favored construction of the shopping center, although a letter of opposition to the center from G. Lathrop was read by City Clerk Dorothy Trevelyan. Don Stone, representing owners of property on S. E. corner of Hamilton Ave and San Jose-Los Gatos Road said he neither favored nor opposed the proposed center, but said that his clients had plans for their corner, which were presented to the Planning Commission. His clients, Stone said, had been asked to wait until the hearing on proposed zoning map and ordinance. Stone felt he said, that granting the Rice application at this time would discriminate against clients of the property fronting on San Jose-Los Gatos road.

Comments favoring the construction of the Winchester and Latimer Avenue shopping center were voiced by E. R., E. A., and Elmer Garrison, property owners on Winchester Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lazaar, 151 West Latimer Ave. and David Rutherford, Winchester property owner.

E. A. Garrison said it, (the proposed shopping center) was the best market development in the past ten years. Rutherford said he favored the center and said it would not hurt his property values one bit. Others voiced similar comments favoring the proposed construction and said it would be an asset to the community.

Frank Coyle, of Mortgage Finance Company, representing the Rice's, outlined the advantages of the new shopping center to Campbell merchants, residents, and property owners.

American Business Behind The Scenes

by Reynolds Knight

by Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—President Eisenhower's new Small Business Administration, taking the place of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., set out last week to establish itself as a clearing house for information and ideas to help the companies which have been handed over to it for guidance.

While the new agency has the power to make loans of $150,000 or less, it appears to be aiming at reducing the need for such aid. Its first official act was to form a West Coast contract pool of small metal-working companies to bid on government jobs in the Los Angeles area.

Actually, what creates a demand for government loans to thriving small and medium-sized business in most cases is a difference of opinion between businessman and banker over the prospects for business in general and the borrower's project in particular. There is no way to resolve this impasse: If the businessman weren't an optimist he would work for someone else; if the banker weren't a pessimist he would have gone broke in 1937.

We seem to have decided that the government should throw its weight in most such instances to the borrower. If that's the case, the best lending agency can do is keep down its loan totals and try to be a little more reserved than has been the pattern the last 20 years or so.

THEY'RE PAYING OFF—Despite all the talk about the high level of instalment buying, American consumers are meeting their time payments promptly, according to the nation's largest independent sales-financing institution.

Arthur O. Dietz, president of C. I. T. Financial Corporation, says the average American doesn't need to be told how to handle his own affairs. Dietz ought to know; he has been in sales finance work with C. I. T. for nearly 30 years. He says:

"The U. S. consumer is a good credit manager with integrity and common sense. He's honest and believes in paying his obligations."

Dietz points out that in 1952 American families used about $50 billion in consumer credit in buying the $216 billion of goods and services consumed in the year. Thus consumer credit sparked nearly 25 per cent of consumer expenditures of all types providing a vital underpinning to the nation's economy.

A 1914 model Ford is currently circulating around Cambrian Park and neighboring areas, with occupants in colorful costumes, advertising the annual Cambriana "Gay Nineties" sponsored by the Cambrian Park Improvement Association.

The Cambriana will be held Sept. 12 from 4 p. m. to midnight on Parker School Grounds. Proceeds will be used for improving the new Cambrian Park community playground.

There will be pony rides for the children, novelty acts, booths and door prizes, with a free dance from 8 to 11 p. m.

THINGS TO COME—A radiant glass tray, plugged into the household current, will keep hot foods at 200 degrees on the table... Squeeze bottles now feed house plants; one squeeze to half a spoonful of plant food... Insect-killing paint in four colors is offered for homes and farms. Washing it makes it more potent... A coming golf practice machine will feed balls through a tube from a hopper which holds 15... Electronic eyes look over coffee, bean by bean, for a New Orleans roaster, and throw out the off-color ones.

CHRISTMAS IN AUGUST—Summer is traditionally a slack season for pressers of phonograph records, but this summer finds one giant of the industry operating three shifts a day, with sales 74 per cent above its level for the same months of last year.

"It's like Christmas in August," declares Emanuel (Manie) Sacks, vice president and general manager of RCA-Victor's record department, describing his company's sharply higher summer sales of discs.

Sacks attributes much of the increased volume to frequent field trips of company executives who used the time-tried but never outdated approach of simply asking dealers and listeners what they liked. It was no surprise to hear that they liked Perry Como, Eddie Fisher and Eartha Kitt, all of whom are sharing in the upsurge of sales.

Sacks gives some of the credit to the fact that the demand for all music has increased greatly since World War II. Last year sales passed the $200 million mark—compared to $90 million in 1941—and he expects another 10 per cent gain this year.

STEEL SHIFTS—The other day U. S. Steel began shipping sheet steel and tinplate from its Fairless Works at Morrisville, Pa., and the same day the Alan Wood Steel Co. offered for sale three sheet-rolling mills, capable of producing 220 tons of sheet a day.

This is the answer to the fears of over-capacity which have been cropping up of late. New capacity drives out old. Big Steel, for example, is already preparing to scrap its Homestead Works at Pittsburgh. End result will be that the new mill will turn out more steel at less cost for less outlay of human energy, and we shall all be better off.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Dynel, the wool-like synthetic fiber, now comes in four colors, added to the yarn as it is made... Interest on U. S. loans to colleges to build dormitories has risen to 3½ per cent... Chile, which got 36 cents a pound for copper as long as it could, now offers it to the U. S. stockpile at 29... American Car & Foundry Co. kicked back $22.5 million voluntarily to a tank contract for $144.5 million.

Camp Fire Girls Membership Drive

Almost 2,000 Camp Fire Girls in Santa Clara County Council, 500 of whom attended summer camp this year, will shortly take part in their organization's membership drive, it was announced today by Mrs. Allen B. Givens, Camp Fire President. The membership march begins September 15th and will run through November 30th.

In announcing the events Mrs. Givens stated that the Santa Clara Council will aim to enroll more adult volunteers as well as girls in the program.

For those unfamiliar with the purpose of Camp Fire, here is an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with the important role it plays in communities all over the United States.

The Camp Fire Girls were formulated in 1910 and the organization was cooperated in 1912. It was promoted by the recognition for some kind of nation wide organization that would offer a host of interesting leisure time recreational activities for girls.

The program is essentially feminine and in no way imitative of a boy's program. It is set up to increase skills, develop leadership qualities, broaden interests and for participation in the practice of home making.

The Camp Fire Girls has now developed into one of the largest and most active youth organizations in the country. Operating under professional supervision and volunteer leaders, (Mothers who recognize the importance of group activities for their daughters) the Camp Fire Girls learn handicraft, nature study and creative arts. Sports and games are encouraged. Outdoor camping is part of the summer schedule. Indian names and symbols are carried through to the Camp Fire bolero, adding charm and atmosphere. Honors and rank passing is also part of the program and for which girls earn beads to sew on and enhance further their Camp Fire costumes.

The Bluebirds, a junior partner of Camp Fire, is set up for little girls under 10 years. It is a program of creative play and fun aimed to help girls to mature into well-rounded individuals. There is no emphasis on what girls can make and do.

Kenneth N. Wallace, dramatics instructor at the Campbell Union High School, looks on approvingly as his bride, the former Miss Rosamond Praisewater, cuts their wedding cake, following ceremonies recently at Palo Alto.

Camp Fire which is a Red Feather agency has a $1.00 a year membership fee—camping, clothing and equipment is extra.

Mothers interested in starting Camp Fire or Bluebird groups should contact the Camp Fire Office, 330 Security Building, San Jose, phone CY 5-1255 any weekday between the hours of 9-5 o'clock, where all further information is available.

Federal Tax Soon

About 25 per cent of the income of the average family of four in Santa Clara County will go for federal taxes in 1953-54 according to a report from the California Taxpayers Association. That means about $2028 for each family of four or about $507 per person.

There are 355,500 people in Santa Clara County who will be expected to pay $81,758,900 in federal taxes in the new fiscal year. This is $505 per capita. Total income is set at $722,376,000 in the county based on the 1952 average income of $2032 per person.

WEST'S 6,000,000th TELEPHONE GOES TO WORK

Interstate Telegraph Company installs milestone instrument in Barstow, Calif.

A veteran of Korea and his wife are making calls this week over the West's 6,000,000th telephone. It was installed September 2nd by the Interstate Telegraph Company (an affiliate of the California Electric Power Company) which provides telephone service in Barstow and the surrounding territory. The Williams' telephone brings the total in the West to almost double what it was at the end of World War II—a remarkable growth record made possible by the combined efforts of more than 200 telephone companies.

Telephone business is a community business

The telephone business is essentially a local business. Ninety percent of all telephone calls are local calls. And in the hundreds of communities served by the West's telephone companies, local people—your friends and neighbors—provide your telephone service, working constantly to furnish good service at low cost.

YOUR TELEPHONE IS ONE OF TODAY'S BEST BARGAINS

It may surprise you to know that the West is served by more than 200 different telephone companies and the U. S. by over 5,200 companies. And the teamwork among them makes it possible for any telephone in the West to be connected with any of the 49,000,000 telephones in America. Surely one important reason for the West's sound growth is the cooperation among the telephone companies which serve it.

LOBELIA FOR HUES OF BLUE

Beautiful shades of blue accentuated by purple foliage can still be yours if you transplant flat grown lobelia now, according to the California Bedding Plant Advisory Board. Two shades of blue—the light Cambridge Blue and the delightful deep blue Crystal Palace—will suit even the most discriminating gardener.

This versatile, compact, little plant will thrive in the full sun and also in those neglected shaded areas. Use it generously to provide a continuous border or colorful bed. Use sparingly to provide color in a rock garden or a mixed bed of low growing plants. Beautiful blue and purple blend well and accent all fall flowering plants.

Lobelia is a lazy gardeners dream come true. It attracts few insect pests—withstanding periods without watering—and in return, blooms its head off. Big dividends from such a little plant proves again that good things come in small packages.

OUR "BLOATED" BONDHOLDERS

The idea that we have in this country any class of "bloated bondholders" ought long ago to have been exploded.

The idea that creditors are few, nevertheless, persists. In fact, the rank and file of citizens are creditors and to a larger extent than they realize. Their failure to recognize this stems from the fact that they so largely put their funds in the hands of financial institutions which make a business of lending the people's money.

The simple fact is that the number of institutions that make lending their business does not exceed 50,000.

But what is commonly overlooked is that such institutions are simply intermediaries. When banks make loans the ultimate creditors are the depositors, whose accounts numbered 111 million on the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation's last count, two years ago.

Similarly, life insurance companies lend funds which essentially belong to policyholders, estimated to number 88 million.

PENSIONS

The National City Bank of New York, in one of its recent "letters" gives an interesting resume of this "bloated bondholder" myth.

After showing the relatively few commercial lenders as opposed to the many millions who lend their money for interest, the bank then touches on what it calls the "newest Creditor interest".

This is represented, it says, in pension rights.

The mushroom growth of these rights is well known. Some, the bank points out, are administered by private insurance companies while others are set up as trust funds which are administered by boards of trustees.

Their resources, now $12 billion, are held for the benefit of 10 million employees. They supplement the federal old-age trust fund which holds $18 billion in government securities and covers 47 million people.

These pension rights, no less than life insurance benefits, represent a creditor interest of the individual. The Securities and Exchange Commission values life insurance and pension equities together at $120 billion.

Individuals, as creditors, hold $192 billion in deposits with banks, $66 billion in U. S. Government securities, $20 billion in mortgage loans, and $19 billion in savings and loan associations.

In the background of these figures, it should be made clear, the interest of the people as a whole lies in sound money policies which will protect the real values of savings, rights, and benefits accumulated over the years.

Inflation can wipe them out swiftly, as experience shows. When people begin to distrust the value of tomorrow's dollar the whole economic machine is thrown out of gear as effort is diverted from production to bidding up prices.

If any individual finds profit in this it is the shrewd speculator—not the average citizen who needs a currency he can trust as a basis for security.

The "creditor class" is well nigh universal and the citizen's personal interest in sound money parallels his interest in national strength and security.

If any "bloated bondholders" exist in America, they are you and your neighbor.

And that's good.

grown transplants of tetra snapdragons, rays of sunshine flood your winter garden.

There are tetra snaps in solid colors—white, yellow, pink and crimson and more on the way. The beautiful mixtures of this strain are plentiful.

Tetra snapdragons have stronger stems. Flowers are so thick set along the stem that individual plants become showpieces. Small plantings through the garden will brighten the dull weather ahead. Nothing can surpass the beauty of a mixed bowl of snaps in the home. Even two or three tall stems of tetras will cause delighted comment.

Winter stocks are good companion material for snapdragon plantings, as flowering coincides closely and growth habits are similar. Many fine winter blooming annuals are available to border such Blind Students To Attend Quito Sch.

The new term at Quito school offers a challenge for pupils and teachers alike. This year all the county blind children from kindergarten through sixth grade will attend their school.

Because of crowded conditions at Campbell Grammar School, where they have previously been taught, these handicapped students will now go to Quito School. According to Mrs. Dorothy Sutter, principal, the new pupils will only number five, although there are several more blind children in the county who do not attend school because their parents are not aware of the facilities available.

Mrs. Florence Gilmore is to be the special teacher for these children. Whenever possible however, they will attend classes with the children of their grade. Mrs. Gilmore will know the plan of study in advance and will aid the blind pupils with their work, but only when it is impossible for them to keep up will she teach them in their own room.

The aim of the program is to teach them to be independent whenever feasible. Mrs. Sutter expects the main problem to be keeping the sighted students from helping their handicapped classmates. "No matter what one hears about children being cruel," she says, "they are really kind, especially in a case like this."

Although all these children are "legally" blind, only two of them are totally unable to see. Some are able to distinguish light and dark, and at least one is able to see objects at least dimly.

The citizens of Campbell and Quito Park congratulate the faculty of Quito and wish them well with their project.

They are on either eight or 16 millimeter. There are two sound film entries. Silent films on the program will have musical background selected by Dr. Charles J. McDonald.

This year's chairman, Leslie Olsen, has already stated that the program will be as good or better than in previous years. Admission to the show is free and the public is urged to attend early. The program begins at 8 p. m.

Campbell Kiwanis Club this week instead of holding their regular meeting at Country Women's Club, will hold their annual barbeque at the summer home of Ray Bishop at Saratoga.

75 TURN OUT FOR CUHS PHYSICALS; TEAMS LACK EXPERIENCE IN LINE

Campbell High School head coach, Jim Muir, said yesterday that 75 players turned out for physical tests by team physician Dr. Robert M. Wade last Tuesday. Students intending to turn out for CUHS football this year, should contact one of the coaches for physical exam appointments after school starts, Muir said.

Asked about prospects for this year, Muir, who turned out a co-championship squad in the valley league race last year, said, "Of course, its too early to tell, yet. There's a lot of enthusiasm but we have only four returning lettermen to build on. Already, we lack depth and experience in the line. Two of our tackles, a guard and an end will be juniors the way it shapes up now."

Muir emphasized that all of the positions are open, and first string and starting lineups will depend on performances in practice sessions.

Backfield will probably center around big Bill Gregg, returning letterman, and Larry Sutton, quarterback.

The line will be bolstered by CUHS's big center Rob Webb with wing positions probably held down by returnees Russ Camilleri and Tony Schraub.

Schraub said a quick look at this season's opponents indicated that Fremont, Los Gatos, and James Lick seem to be the teams to watch.

ORCHARD GRANGE MAKES PLANS FOR S.C. COUNTY FAIR

Highlights of Orchard City Grange No. 333 at their regular meeting September 8 presided over by Master A. J. Emery concerned the local Grange's participation at Santa Clara County Fair, the coming State Grange Convention, and during the lecture hour a talk on California History.

Mervin Keesling, head of committee, reminded Grangers the dead line for bringing fruit and vegetables for the Santa Clara County Fair booth is Sunday night September 13th. September 17 will be Grange Day at the Fair, he said, and this year Orchard City Grange will again set up its well-known Strawberry booth.

Concerning the State Grange Convention to be held at Santa Rosa October 20 through Oct. 23, Harry Barnes, Local grange member and State Grange Executive Board members said registration will begin Monday afternoon and evening Oct. 19 at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium and not at the Hotel Santa Rosa, as was previously announced. All convention sessions will be held at the Y. M. Auditorium October 20 through October 23. Barnes said the Hotel Santa Rosa will be designated the headquarters hotel. Initiation to the sixth degree will be held at the fairgrounds exhibition building. Barnes said the largest attendance ever is expected and reminded local grangers to make reservations now.

During the lecture hour arranged by Grange lecturer Lucille Hoerler, Martin S. Walsh, Campbell attorney, spoke on the highlights of California's admission into the Union Sept. 9, 1913 years ago. Walsh said California was the 31st State to be admitted to the Union, and was the only state with a ready made Constitution. Walsh pointed out that the first state capital was at San Jose where all state laws were administered during a session of several months ending Dec. 31, 1849. Walsh also mentioned that California's state flower the Poinsettia was introduced by Joel R. Poinsett, a U. S. Minister from Mexico.

Other highlights of this week's Grange meeting was a visit from local granger John Gordon, district deputy, who returned from a trip to Yosemite, to give an account of interesting points of his vacation.

Bessie Merrill, Home Economics chairman announced the meeting of the H. E. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. Ora Lear, Sept. 11.

CAMPBELL HIGH CHANGES MAKE FOR EFFICIENCY

Returning Campbell High students will notice one significant change on the campus this year. It is the new snack bar built this summer by the general staff, under the direction of Dallas Duncan.

The bar provides for much more efficient handling of food during the busy noon hours, and does away with the bottle neck crowding which in the past often discouraged noon time eaters. Tables and chairs and counters have also been arranged for better efficiency.

Twenty four new mechanical drawing tables have also been added during the summer month.

Also installed during vacation time were new lawns and a completely new sprinkler system for keeping them in top shape.

Several Grangers were reported bit by the prevailing virus. Master A. J. Emery reported that Mrs. Emery is recovering from a bad cold.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the refreshment committee chairmanned by Mrs. Mae Walsh, and assisted by George Lytle, and Jenny Lytle, Flora Raab, and Gen Scarper.

SERIES EVEN; ROTARY WINS SOFTBALL GAME

No one was injured, although many aching backs and overworked muscles resulted from a two club softball clash between Campbell Rotary and Campbell Kiwanis Club last week at the Campbell Grammar School diamond. According to Kiwanis score-keeper, who recorded everything except errors, Rotary won, 8-7, making the four year record stand at two wins each, and one tie game.

Last year it was the Rotary Club which provided dinners for the victorious Kiwanis Club as a result of a 23-12 Kiwanis victory. In 1950, the twilight riot ended in a 16-16 tie. In 1951, the rotund Rotarians, went into a one game lead with a 15-3 win, but dropped into a tie last year when Kiwanians evened the score 23-12.

Junior (winger) Morgan received credit for the win and, along with recent Rotary addition, George Miskulin, upped Rotary's win chances by polling the only home runs of the game.

Big bat for Kiwanis Club was Dave Sanders, who poled the only extra base hit on the Kiwanis ledger. Sanders' clout was good for three bases.
